WILL BURY THE INDIGENT DEAD FOR ONE CENT

Surprising Low Bid Accepted by the Board of Supervisors

For one cent each Lafferty & Smith, undertakers of Santa Rosa, have contracted to bury the indigent dead who die at the county hospital and farm.

The bids for the burials were opened on Monday by the Board of Supervisors. When Clerk Felt broke the seal of the envelope and read the bid, offering to provide the casket, etc., for one cent there was a look of surprise. But Dan H. Lafferty of the firm offering to do this, was on hand, and there was no mistake.

For the one cent the firm agreed to provide a clear redwood coffin, planed on both sides; with lid; two coats of dark colored stain; interior of casket lined with white muslin. bottom padded and with pillow. They will also place a headboard painted and lettered over the grave, The grave in the county cemetery. will also be dug, five feet, and properly filled in.

The city of Denver and the county of Sonoma are the only places in the United States where they have burials that cost one cent. In Denver the one cent bid came as the result of the liviest competitive bidding. The Undertaking firm, like Lafferty & Smith, gave a bond for the faithfully carrying out of their contract.

The contract to bury the indigent in other parts of the county went to Welti Bros. for $15.

KILLED AT SHELLVILLE

Friday morning last while employed by the Great Western Power Co. in constructing its line to Santa Rosa, Henry Hulseberg, of Petaluma was instantly killed at Shellville. He was struck by a falling derrick. The injured man was rushed to Lerx's Sanitarium after the accident, but died on the way to town. His injuries were known to be fatal from the first and he died on the way to receive medical attention.

Coroner Blackburn was notified and held an inquest, and the jury rendered the following verdict: "We, the jury, find that the deceased, Henry Hulseberg, a native of California, aged 24 years, came to his death near Shellville on July 5, as a result of a fracture of the skull, caused by being struck by a falling derrick on a wagon of the Great Western Power Co., and we further find that said accident could have been avoided by proper precautions taken by the said company."

The jury was composed of J. B Small, foreman; P. Laurenzo. V. Bulotti, Granville S. Harris, Arthur L. Wells, M. J. Hibbard, M. Muldry, A. Pinelli and W. Wood.

Hulseberg was the son of Mr. Hulseberg, of Petaluma, who committed suicide while emyloyed as a gardener in that city.

A sister of the deceased died a few months ago, having taken poison, and was found in a vacant lot in Petaluma and removed to a hospital, where she soon passed away.

GOV. GILLETT TO OPEN FAIR

At the meeting Monday night of the directors of the Gravenstein Apple Fair which will be held at Sebastopol, commencing August 19. it was decided to invite former Governor James N. Gillett to make the address and declare the exposition open.

The immense tent pavillion will be erected on July 22. Already there is promise of a very large number of fine exhibits. The premium list this year is $2,000, or $700 more than last year.

The grain outlook in this county is good for at least a normal crop, despite expectations of a short season due to a dry year. Harvesting is now in full blast in the grain sections, and some barley has already been shipped. In some places the barley crop is averaging 12 to 14 sacks per acre, which is much better than expected. Although Stanislaus was formerly the first county in the state in wheat production, very little wheat was planted this season, barley and oats predominating.

VEGETATION IN POULTRY YARDS

We all know the value of grass and weeds in poultry runs. No one dare despute it. A yard without vegetation is a poultry run and nothing else, while a yard green with vendure of some kind is a feeding field. There are several ways by which one can have green available at all times during the natural growing season. One old idea is to have small yards attached to every pen and one larger yard for two or more smaller yards. The smaller yards adjoin the building, while the larger one connects them at their ends. The latter should be ample enough to be always green, and here the hens will pass the day, when the smaller yards are bare or have been seeded lately. If three small yards, the middle one in reality a broad passageway, to be used by either pen in going to the larger space beyond. are used, one of the smaller yards can always be seeded and kept free from hens until its crop is ready to be picked over when the other pen is taken in hand. This plan has much to recommend it, although the extra wire required makes it somewhat costly. Again, many small hen plants have not the room to employ it.

Another method is the two-yard house. One yard may face the south while another run the summer run, generally extends to the north. While the summer run is getting vegetation bare, the winter run is taken in hand and sown to rye or vetch, with a few cowhorn turnips to take out an excess of manure and impurities, and in the spring the winter or north run is coaxing the birds to partake of its richness. The south run may be at odd times seeded during the summer to oats or barley and the hens allowed to cut it down. A few weeks of rest to either run will give the other yard a respite to recover again. The drawbacks of this system are as in the added expense for an entire double set of yards and the possible draft to the house caused by the exit holes which are in the north wall. I have overcome this latter by building a box shelter on the outside of the holes, which was closed on all sides except the east. This allowed the fowls to enter and leave it at will and still kept the direct winds from blowing on them.

Where one can have but one yard it is best to bar the hens from entering it after cool weather is threatened, sow it to rye for spring use and depend on wire covered green boxes to furnish feed during the summer. Twelve-inch boards, hemlock is best, set on edge to form a box 6x12 feet, and filled with rich top-dirt from the yard, if sown to any quick growing greens, will furnish vegetation all summer. The hens will eagerly pick off the tender top shoots when they come through the wire, (this shonld be one-inch mesh) and because unable to dig them up roots and all, the supply will las during the growing season. In order to prevent the hens through their weight from pressing the wire down, suitable support should be nailed across the box every foot or two.

For shade and greens at the same time, every weed counts. I have seen a successful hen man who made it a point to have one or two spaces in his yard always screened off from the hens. He would stir the soil up good and allow the multitude of weed seeds to grow at will until they were nearly a foot tall, when the hens would be allowed to go after them. This they always did. By doing this stunt all summer long, he managed to supply his hens with sufficient greens of a variety to suit their needs. Let us remember that hens need green to furnish bulk and zest to their ration and that any greens will do under certain circumstances. The wise poultry keeper who sees to it, that his hens have greens a plenty growing in their yards. is the one who can save on his feed bills and gain in hen health and results.

Fresno is carrying on a fly-killing campaign this summer and these pests have been exterminated at the rate of a bushel a day. Meat markets, dairies and provision stores, where these nasty pests in the past have been most common, are now stated to be free from them. It is a movement in the direction of health.

EGYPTIAN INCUBATOR

In a village in the Egytian desert chickens today are incubated just as in Biblical times, on a scale and by methods which would astonish western poultry raisers. Ernest Kellerstrass, a poultry expert of Kansas City, Mo., recently inspected one of these Egyptian incubators.

"Of course," he says, "it is known by all chicken fanciers that incubation was carried on in Egypt in ancient times. Personally, however, I did not dream it still was carried on by the same archaic methods.

"The incubator which I saw, like the house which adjoined it. was built of adobe and shaped like a beehive. I entered by a small oval door. The place was full of smoke, but I distinguished within the great beehive six objects resembling smaller beehives There were three on each side Each of these was raised on a table above the floor and was pierced with a small oval opening. These were the ovans. They were supplied with heat from circular fireplaces beneath, in which straw and chaff were kept smouldering without coming to a blaze. In each oven there were no less than 6,000 eggs. There was an open pot in the center where one of the children crawled in to turn the eggs. The hospitable Arab assured me his ancestors incubated in this manner as far back as human memory reached."

The pear crop in the San Joaquin valley is reported as short and growers are figuring on fifty dollars a ton for what fruit they have.

STORK BEATS DEATH IN STATE LAST YEAR

There were 34,012 deaths in California during 1911, an increase of 1614 or 5.0 per cent over the figures for 1910, according to the final tabulations just completed by George D. Leslie, statistician in the offices of the State Board of Health. The year 1911, he says, was the first in the history of the State when the registered births exceeded the death total the system of registeration slowly having become more efficient in all parts of the state, especially in the more remote portions.

The 1911 death rate per 1000 of population was 13 7 against 13.5 during 1910 and 13.4 in 1909. While the increase in deaths for 1911 was 5.0 per cent, the gain in births was no less than 2,690, or 8.4 per cent in births. The birth rate for 1911 also is greater than the death rate per 1000 population being 14.0 per 1000 for 1911 as against 13 7 per 1000 deaths. The registered births during 1911 were 34.828, against 34.012 for 1910, an increase of 816, or 2 4 per cent.

On July 5th Board met in adjourned meeting. All members present.

Resolutions of respect of the late Newton V. V. Smyth were read and clerk was instructed to spread the same on the minute book of the board.

Plans for the Carnegie library building were received and the Board ordered that the call for bids for the construction of the building be advertised.

The question of leasing the municipal rock crusher was brought up and the city attorney was instructed to draw up a contract.

No other business appearing the Board adjourned.

Wednesday evening the Board met in special session to consider leasing the rock crusher to Mr. M Campbell, of San Francisco. A contract and lease that had been prepared, was read to the Board, and after a few changes, was approved of. The City Attorney was instructed to draw a lease and contract as amended. The vote on the lease was as follows: Cummings, chairman, yes; Waguon, yes; Dal Poggetto, yes; Johnson, yes; Breitenbach, no.

Assemblyman J. W. Hamilton of Petaluma will be a candidate for renomination at the September primaries for the office of Assemblyman of the new Twelfth district, formerly the Thirteenth. Mr. Hamilton and Mr. Slater represented this county in the last legislature.

CITY COUNCIL LEASES ROCK CRUSHER

The leasing of the municipal rock crusher, which has caused considerable discussion in the chambers of the city council, and was most strenuouly objected to by Trustee Breitenbach, was brought tto a head Wednesday evening and the plant was leased to Mr. M. Campbell, of San Francisco, for a term of years.

The leasee agrees to pay to the city for rental of the plant a bonus of ten cents per cubic yard for all rock crushed, and to also pay the fee of five cents for all rock removed from the premises where the rock crusher is located, to the owner of the land. The lease is to run for a term of four years.

Mr. Campbell further agrees to sell to the city all rock needed for public improvements at the rate of 60 cents per cubic yard, which with the bonus deducted, amounts to 50 cents per cubic yard net.

According to Trustee Wagnon, who has kept a close account of the cost of rock from the crusher, this will enable the city to place the finished material on the streets at a cost approximating 75 cents per cubic yard. The cost of crushing the rock and placing it on the streets was from 80 to 85 cents per cubic yard, thus making a saving of from 5 to 10 cents per cubic yard of crushed rock placed upon the streets.

The advocates of the lease say that another advantage of having the plant leased to a private party is that the city has not sufficient funds on hand to run the crusher, even for the necessary street work, while semi-public work, like the building of gutters and side walks, should have crushed rock, the contractors are obliged to use gravel on account of the city's ability to furnish the crushed rock called for in the specifications. The leasing of the plant will also establish a pay roll of no small amount.

The lease was opposed by Trustee Breitenbach on the grounds that the city had spent $2000 in installing the plant and that the plant had not been given a fair tryout, and that he believed the plant could be run at a greater profit to the city and a saving to the tax payers under municipal control.

MARRIES AND HE REPENTS IT SOON

The following dispatch from San Jose will be read with interest:

San Jose, July 8,—George Diebold, aged 60, of Agua Caliente, Sonoma County, married Ella Mertens, aged 30, of San Francisco, in this city last Saturday. Already he repents his bargain and execrates matrimonial advertisements.

Diebold made a flying trip to San Jose today to get his marriage certificate at the office of the county recorder and volubly recited the history of his unhappy experience to the attaches of the office. He explained that he wanted to get the document before his bride could do so and so forstall any designs which she might have upon him or his property.

The couple had been acquainted only 10 days and their meeting was brought about by Diebold's answering an advertisement for a husband, inserted in a San Francisco paper by Ella Mertens. After a brief and unromantic courtship, during which the present Mrs. Diebold learned that he was a prosperous farmer of Sonoma county and had an estate in Europe, the couple came to San Jose Saturday and were married by Police Judge Thomas R. Daugherty. Not a moment's peace has Diebold had since. He says that he found his bride cold and mercenary and was horrified to discover that most of her charms were false. He spent a small fortune for jewelry for her during last week and he found she had a temper when he refused her more.

Diebold had planned to start east tonight on a trip to Europe, where he was going to reside on an estate in Alsace, but decided to stay at home and let his solicitors look after his interests when he learned that his bride discovered that he was heir to some 80,000 marks and insisted on accompanying him.

On the same day of the wedding Diebold had a deed to property recorded in the office of County Recorder Fred Nagle.

ENGINEER LEWIS INJURED

Engine and Tender Jump Track on Sebastopol Branch

Sam Lewis, one of the best known engineers in the employ of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad, was painfully scalded by steam last Sunday morning when his engine was derailed and thrown in the ditch.

The locomotive was returning light from Sebastopol, running backward, and when near Leddy station the tender and engine jumped the track and ran about 200 feet on the ties before toppling over.

Fireman Williams and Dick Quigly, who were riding in the cab at the time, jumped and escaped uninjured, but Mr. Lewis stayed with his charge and was badly scalded by escaping steam.

The injuries to this faithful engineer are of a very serious nature. When the garments were removed from his lower limbs large pieces of cuticle came with them, leaving the flesh raw and bleeding.

He was taken to the Mary Jesse Hospital in Santa Rosa, where his wounds were dressed, and then he was taken to the Cottage Hospital in San Rafael Monday.

Mr. Lewis is one of the oldest engineers in the employ of the Northwestern Pacific in the point of service, having run the first locomotive over the Sonoma Valley branch when the road was narrow guage. The engine was shipped from the east and brought directly to this branch, where Mr. Lewis with the aid of a halt witted boy, assembled it and placed it in commission.

He stayed in service on this branch until three years ago, when he was transferred to the main line and then to the Sebastopol branch.

This is the second accident Mr. Lewis has been in during his thirty years of service.

The first accident happened about three years ago when a wharf gave away and let his engine drop into the bay.

APPEAL TAKEN IN KENWOOD SUIT

A notice of appeal to the Supreme Court was filed in the Superior Court on Wednesday in the suit of B. Davidow against [illegible] Griswold et al., by Attorneys W. H. Robinson and W. F. Cowan, representing the plaintiff, who lost in the Superior Court of Sonoma county. This suit involved title to portions of land alleged to have been set aside for streets in the town of Kenwood. The County of Sonoma et al., were the intervenors in the litigation.

TELEPHONE COMPANY FILES COMPLAINT

The Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company has filed a complaint with the Railroad Commission against the Great Western Power Company. The telephone company charges that the power company is engaged in constructing a high power tension line between Napa and Shellville in such a manner that it will interfere seriously with the lines used for telephone purposes. It is charged that the high tension power line will parallel the telephone line within an average distance of fifty feet for seven miles. The proximity of the power line, it is charged, will render the telephone line useless for commercial purposes and endanger employes and property from electrical shocks and fire.

BULOTTI BUYS YENNI CORNER

A deal was consumated this week by which the ownership of the property on the corner of 1st Street West and Napa Street, now occupied by the N. & M. Hardware Store, passed from Peter Yenni to Mr. Fred Bulotti.

Mr. Bulotti also made a sale, disposing of the property, which he purchased from Mr. D. Fussel, to the Congregational Church.

SEASON TOO EARLY

Many of the hunters who have returned from the hills in this and Mendocino county agree that the deer season is too early and should be at least two weeks or a month later. The bucks' antlers are still soft and make them an easy prey for hunters. There has been a tremenduous slaughter of deer this season

AN ELABORATE PAGEANT

It begins to look as though every lover of fun and recreation would be present at Santa Cruz during the week of July 20 to 28, when the greatest water pageant in the history of Western America will be promulgated under the direction of Mr Swanson and his associates. The ease with which residents in practically every section of the state can reach Santa Cruz; the attractive round-trip fares offered by the railroads; the moderate rates and accommodations to be secured; and the variety of unique entertainment guaranteed by Manager Swanson, have proven irresistable magnets for hundreds of tired, overworked Californians, who long for a breath of the sea and a joliy vacation with care-free companions.

The re-opening of the Cottage City, where clean, comfortable accomodations may be had at a minimum of expense, has gone far to offset the unfortunate destruction of the Sea Beach Hotel, which burned last week. In addition the new Hotel St. George will aid the beautiful Casa del Rey in taking charge of those who wish more elaborate quarters.

Several extra features have been added to the program during the past week. Aviators Bryant and Francis, famous throughout the west for their daring escapades in the air, will be on hand to lend a daily thrill to the festivities. Manager Swanson is now in communication with the Navy Department regarding the two submarines now in San Francisco bay with a view to having them at Santa Cruz for the pageant. It is understood that the Department favors this exhibition of the latest "water bull" dog. Thus it will be possible for visitors to see practically all the modern forms of navigation—on the water, under the water and over the water.

The "Seafarer," America's entry in the Honolulu to San Francisco yacht race, has been invited to participate in the events of this "water week" and will probably be on hand with the winner's flag at her masthead. In addition there will be the yacht regattas; the motor boat, shell, skift, and swimming races; the parade of decorated floats; the magnificent display of fireworks, bathing, dancing, driving and riding.

Sidney Cavill, perhaps the most famous swimmer on the Pacific coast and the first man who ever swam the Golden Gate, has been appointed as master of ceremonies for all aquatic sports. Cavill, who is at present swimming instructor of the Olympic Club, is already in touch with some of the leading mermaids and mermans of the country, many of whom have already signified their intention of participating in the water contests.

Reservations at the Hotel Casa del Rey are now being made by the management, and will be held until the evening of July 15, or later if assurances of attendance are received.

NOTICE TO ORCHARDISTS

You are hereby notified to begin spraying on July 10th for the second generation of the codlin moth. By order of the State Board of Horticulture. O. E. Brenner, Secty.

TAKE OFF SUNDAY SPECIAL

The Southern Pacific Company has taken off the Sunday special train which it placed on the Santa Rosa-Vallejo run six weeks ago. This train came up during the morning, returning immediately and then made another trip in the afternoon. It was found that the patronage was not sufficient to warrant the expense of maintaining the service so it was ordered discontinued.

BUSYBODIES VS. TRUTH.

Here Are The Facts—Judge For Yourself.

Busybodies who see in success only falsity, who, without making an effort to inform themselves, blatantly cry offense against honesty and truth—seem to forget that a slur against Dr. Pierce's well-known non-alcoholic family remedies is a slur against the intelligence of thousands of clear-thinking American women who know they have been helped and cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is not a "patent medicine" in any sense—it is simply the favorite remedy which Dr. Pierce used in an extended practice for the treatment of the diseases peculiar to women.

Truth and Influence. A name for honesty and square dealing is better than great riches. Fraud is a bubble that soon bursts. Dr. R. V. Pierce has always been known to speak the truth—his famous medicines are founded on the rock of public approval and have thousands of truthful testimonials as to their ability to cure diseases for which they are recommended.

True Speaking. No man ever lost a prospective customer through telling the truth. In the long run Dr. Pierce believes the truth will prevail and he is therefore not afraid to make public his formula.

Valuable Trade Secrets. The ingredients of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription are given to the public. He vindicates the excellence and harmless character of his "Prescription" by letting ailing women know just what they are taking when they use this reliable tonic and nervine for the diseases and illnesses peculiarly feminine. These ingredients are combined in just the right proportion to make an efficient remedy, without the use of a particle of alcohol, and they are as follows: Golden Seal root, Black Cohosh root, Unicorn root, Blue Cohosh root, Lady's Slipper root, with chemically pure glycerine of proper strength for extracting and preserving the active medicinal principles residing in the above native roots.

No Alcohol Used. Dr. Pierce never believed it necessary or advisable to use alcohol in the preparation of either his "Favorite Prescription" for weak women, or his "Golden Medical Discovery," the well-known alterative tonic, which is so largely used as a remedy for indigestion, torpid liver, bad blood and kindred ailments. Over forty years ago, he discovered that chemically pure glycerine is a far better solvent of most of the active principles residing in our native medicinal plants when used at a proper and sustained temperature than is alcohol; and, furthermore, he found that a glyceric extract kept much better than an alcoholic one, and that the glycerine possessed intrinsic remedial value, being demulcent, nutritive and an effective anti-ferment. Although costing somewhat more, Dr. Pierce predicts that glyceric medicinal extracts will, in the not distant future, largely replace alcoholic ones so generally prescribed by physicians and put out by proprietary or "patent medicine" manufacturers, as being more efficient and entirely free from the serious objection of making inebriates when used in lingering or chronic cases, where a somewhat protracted use of medicine is necessary no matter how good or well adapted to the case it may be in order to obtain permanent results.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. When the "Favorite Prescription" is not quite laxative enough, as in obstinate constipation, the little, pleasant, sugar-coated "Pellets" should be taken to aid the "Prescription." One or two for a laxative, two to four for a cathartic. They alone have been known to cure many bad cases of stomach trouble, dyspepsia and indigestion. They act on the liver and regulate the bowels. Put up in glass vials, corked, therefore, always fresh and reliable.

How Tin Foil Is Made.

Tin foil, which is extensively used for wrapping tobacco, certain food products and other articles of commerce, is a combination of lead with a thin coating of tin on each side. First a tin pipe is made of a thickness proportionate to its diameter, proportion not given. This pipe is then filled with molten lead and rolled or beaten to the extreme thinness required. In this process the tin coating spreads simultaneously with the spreading of the lead core and continuously maintains a thin, even coating of tin on each side of the center sheet of lead, even though it may be reduced to a thickness of .001 inches or less.—American Inventor.

Her Disease.

One day Marjorie, aged three, wanted to play doctor with her sister. Marjorie was to be the "doctor" and she came to make a call on her sister, who made believe she was sick. "Do you want to know what you've got?" the doctor asked after a critical examination. "Yes," faintly assented the sick woman. "You've got dirty hands," said Marjorie, dropping in disgust the wrist on which she had been feeling the pulse.—Buffalo Commercial.

He Knew the Kind.

A small boy in Boston was rebuked by his father for swearing. "Who told you that I swore?" asked the bad little boy. "Oh, a little bird told me," said the father. The boy stood and looked out of the window at some sparrows which were chattering. "I know who told you," he said. "It was one of those damn sparrows."

Her Mind.

Hilton—My wife is a matter of fact woman. She only speaks her mind. Chilton—So does mine, but she changes her mind so often that it keeps her talking all the time.—Chicago News.

A Remarkable Fortress.

In the northern part of Madagascar is the most remarkable natural fortress in the world. It is occupied by a wild tribe who call themselves the people of the rocks. The fortress is a lofty and precipitous rock of enormous size, 1,000 feet high and eight square miles in area. Its sides are so steep that it cannot be climbed without artificial means. Within it is hollow, and the only entrance is by a subterranean passage.

Origin of the Sidesaddle.

The use of the sidesaddle for women riders is traced to the time of Anne of Bohemia, eldest daughter of the emperor of Germany, who married Richard II. of England. Previous to this date all Englishwomen bestrode their horses man fashion, but on account of a deformity this German bride was forced to use a sidesaddle, and the custom became general.

All He Lacked.

A pitcher belonging to a professional baseball club, who thought he was not getting his share of the limelight of publicity, went one day to the captain and manager to make his "kick." Being of a somewhat choleric disposition, which had got him into trouble more than once, he spoke with feeling.

"Cap," he said, "you're not giving me a square deal, and you know it."

"What's the matter, Bill?"

"You know what's the matter, cap. I haven't been in the box for three weeks. You know I can play ball. I've got every outcurve, inshoot, upshoot and drop there is in the business. I've got everything that any other pitcher has. I can put on speed, and I can send 'em in slow. I can get 'em right over the plate every time I want to. Haven't I got as good control of the ball as any fellow you know of?"

"Yes, Bill," said the captain, "you have. When you get as good control of your temper as you have of the ball I'll use you, all right. Don't you be uneasy about that, Bill."

Bill went away deep in thought, and it was not very long after that conversation that he "got into the game" again.—Youth's Companion.

Two Ugly Snakes.

These two snakes, the hamadryad and the cobra, cause the great annual death roll of India from snake bite, about 22,000 people last year. One reason for this great death roll is that Hindoos and Buddhists will not kill the snakes, as it is against their religion to take life. The cobra will go away from you usually, except in the nesting season, and then he will attack you on sight if you disturb him or his mate. It is at this time that so many deaths take place among the Malays and Siamese, as it is coincident with the rice planting season, and the peasants are busily at work in the rice fields. The cobra will bite under water, and many people are bitten on the foot or heel while planting rice. Death usually takes place in an hour or less. I have known a large buffalo to be bitten and die in fifteen minutes. It must have been bitten directly in a vein.

In the Malay peninsula and in Siam no one ever walks abroad after dark without a lamp or torch, as it proves almost sucidal to do so.—Medical Journal.

Accepts Commission Government.

The proposition for a commission form of government in Holton, Kan., was carried by a vote of 295 for and 173 against the commission plan.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Uncle Sam certainly showed good business sense when he purchased Alaska. The purchase price was $7,200,000. The cost of maintainance for the forty years which have elapsed since the bargain was closed foots up $35,916,674.25. In the same period Alaska has yielded in return $192,916,520 in mineral products. $73 618.496 in seal and fur products, $2,075,462 in walrus and whalebone products and $147,953,077 in fishery products. In addition there have been cash receipts amounting to $17,117,354 79. This makes a total of $445,640 684.79, which sum, after subtracting the cost of Alaska to Uncle Sam—purchase price, maintainance and incidental expenses—leaves a profit of $410,824,310.54.

The trustees of the American Medicine Gold Medal have awarded the medal for 1912 to Colonel William C. Gorgas, chief of the United States army medical corps in the canal zone as "the American physician who has performed the most conspicious and noteworthy service in the domain of medicine in the last year." The award is in recognition of the able manner in which he and his staff rid the Isthmas of Panama of fevers and tropical diseases.

The wheat crop of this country is raised on fifty million acres and averages 13 7 bushels to the acre, while several countries of Europe, on 1000 year farmed land, average twenty-six to forty bushels. We have as good, or better land, tools soil, brains, etc., but we are not properly employing any of these factors.

Imperial valley cantaloupe crop is estimated at about 3000 cars. This is a marked increase over the season of 1911, when about 2500 carloads were shipped. The acreage last year planted to cantaloupes in the valley was 4500 acres, while this year there are 5800 acres devoted to the crop.

Stockton is a heavy shipper of cherries, and up to the middle of June had shipped this season 814,230 pounds. These were sold at an average of 6 cents per pound, bringing the total price up to $48,853.80. The amount in tons would exceed 400 tons.

Grasshoppers have appeared in destructive numbers in some of the raisin vineyards of Fresno county, and Commissioner Schell has called for volunteers to help in a fight against them. As usual their destructive work has started in the foothill district.

Fifteen thousand three hundred dollars a month, the interest on money loaned to banks of the state, is the record made for June, and is the largest amount ever collected by the state in this way, according to a report issued by the state board of control.

It is claimed that, owing to large fruit crops in Texas, the demand for California peaches and apricots will be light and prices low. In this case a large percentage of the crop of both these fruits will go to the dryer.

A shipment of Exeter figs to the market at San Francisco topped the season's high water mark by bringing $7.50 per crate.

It is understood that a company is being formed in connection with the plan for artifical production of rubber which is now being so widely discussed as a result of Profeesor Perkins' lecture before London chemists.

JEALOUS OF THE PETALUMA HEN

The fame of the Petaluma hen is as wide as the nation is broad. Wherever epicures abound the Petaluma hen has the place of honor. Poets sing of her, artists paint her, orators devote to her their most eloquent rhapsodies.

For this reason other and less favored localities are jealous of the Petaluma hen. With a pettishness born of long existence in the bleak and soggy East, a lot of people are peevish over the powess of the hen of Sonoma county, California, and are constantly endeavoring to discredit her.

For instance, here comes the high-browed professors of Cornwell University at Ithaca, N. Y. They announce a new race of hens which lay eggs banded with red stripes!

Red stripes, forsooth! Who wants an egg with a red stripe around it! Red is the brand of anarchy and of shame. Who would eat a shameless egg?—San Francisco Examiner.

CALIFORNIA FESTIVAL

GRAND CELEBRATION TO BE HELD ON SEPTEMBER 6, 7, 8 AND 9 UNDER THE AUSPICES OF THE WOMAN'S CLUB

On September 6, 7, 8 and 9 the Sonoma Valley Woman's Club will hold a grand celebration. One of the features will be a wonderful collection of relics, paintings and interesting objects of all sorts, which will be held in the old mission itself.

The mission and cloisters are undergoing a thorough restoration, the aim being to make them as near like the original as possible, using, wherever practicable, the original material. In one place the thatching underneath the tile roof has been carried out exactly as done by the Indians.

Following is the program:

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 6.

6 p. m.—American Supper in the Plaza near the original Bear Flag Pole.

7 p. m.—Grand opening of the Art and Relics Loan, in the old Mission, with promenade concert.

This is a production of unique value, and pulsating with genuine California feeling.

ABOLISH POLL TAX

Two petitions invoking the initiative for the abolition of the poll tax through an amendment to the constitution were filed in the office of the secretary of state last week. One from Plumas county contained 37 names and the other from Contra Costa county contained 167 names. The Sacramento county petition, containing more than 9,000 names, is about to be filed; it is in the office of the county registar of voters for comparison. In order to have the intiative measure pirced on the ballot for the November election a total of more than 31,000 names must be secured.

Forgery In Excelsis.

The most remarkable literary forgery on record was perpetrated in 1870 on Michael Chasles, a French scientist of European reputation. Chasles, who was in his dotage, purchased within a few years from one Vrain-Lucas no fewer than 27,000 autographs. A. M. Broadley tells the story in his "Chats on Autographs:" "Beginning with a supposed correspondence between the youthful Newton and Pascal, Vrain-Lucas proceeded to fabricate letters of Rabelais, Montesquieu and La Bruyere. Before he had finished M. Chasles became the possessor of letters in French, and written on paper made in France, of Julius Caesar, Cleopatra, Mary Magdalene and even of Lazarus after his resurrection." Vrain-Lucas was sentenced to two years' imprisonment, and among other forged manuscripts from his pen there were produced in court letters from Alexander the Great, Herod, Pompey, Judas Iscariot, Sappho, Pontius Pilate and Joan of Arc!

There Was No Applause.

Just before the operation began the operating surgeon said to the students, "Now, gentlemen, no applause, if you please."

When he was convalescing the patient declared that that warning remained his most vivid impression of the ordeal.

"I wondered then how any human being could have the heart to applaud an act that had brought another face to face with death, but later I understood. On account of heart trouble they did not dare administer an anaesthetic, so I was conscious of everything, and in spite of the pain I realized that the surgeon was doing a mighty skillful piece of work. No wonder the students wanted to applaud. They were justified in it.

"'Some years ago they would have clapped the house down after an exhibition of that kind,' an old hospital attendant told me, 'but nowadays doctors discourage any such demonstration.'"—New York Sun.

Told to Earn His Own Salary.

Commodore Vanderbilt discovered in James H. Rutter, then in the employ of the Erie railroad, a man he believed the freight department of the Central needed, says the Baltimore News. It is related that some time after he took charge of the Central's traffic office Rutter called on the commodore to submit a plan for improvement. When he had stated the case the president looked at him sharply and asked:

"Rutter, what does the New York Central pay you $15,000 a year for?"

The reply was, "For managing the freight traffic department."

And then the commodore said, "Well, you don't expect me to earn your salary for you, do you?"

Rutter went out and carried through his plan on his own judgment. The result was highly satisfactory. Rutter became president of the Central.

A Bavarian Apple Pie.

One of the most delicious ways to use apples in cookery is in a Bavarian pie: Line a deep dish with pastry. Fill it with breadcrumbs and bake it until the pastry is done. Then remove the crumbs and fill the cavity with chopped apples and nuts and some stoned raisins. Sweeten with sugar and flavor with nutmeg and cinnamon. Sprinkle with cake crumbs and bake till it is brown on top and the fruit within is thoroughly cooked. Spread over the top a lemon flavored meringue and let it become a light brown in the oven. Set the pie away to cool before serving.—New York Tribune.

DO YOUR BEST.

No matter what the task, always do the very best you can. Only to the few is given the chance to do great and shining deeds, to link their fame with some mighty achievement, but to every man it has been given to act well his part—to perform the many duties, each simple in itself, whose sum is vast and whose effects are enduring.

Burnt Almonds.

Burnt almonds are a confection of purely French origin, owing their inception to the gluttony of a French merchant. One day, tradition has it, Marshal Duplessis-Pralin sent for Lassagne, the inventor of many toothsome dainties, and bade him concoct a new bonbon. Lassagne searched, reflected, combined, until he finally hit upon the confection of burnt almonds, which were baptized with the name of the old gourmet, the French for burnt almonds.—New York Herald.
